FREE TREE DISTRIBUTION FOR ARANSAS COUNTY RESIDENTS

ROCKPORT, TX –The Arbor Day Foundation and Texas A&M Forest Service, in cooperation with the City of Rockport’s Parks Department, will be giving away over 600 tree saplings to Aransas County residents on Friday, October 16 from 2:00 pm to 5:00 pm at Memorial Park, or until tree stock is depleted.

The give-away will be run as a drive-through, similar to local food distribution programs, and participants will remain in their car as a COVID protection measure. Samples of the trees will be on display as individuals drive into Memorial Park. They will be asked what type of tree they would like, and it will be delivered to their vehicle. This is the third consecutive year that the organizations have provided free trees to residents.

November through February are the best months for planting in our area, according to Bill Green with the Texas Forest Service. The saplings to be given away, which include Live Oak, Red Mulberry, Mexican Olive, Texas Ebony, Anacua, Kidney Wood, Texas Persimmon and other varieties, are suitable to grow in the coastal area.

These efforts are part of the Foundation's ongoing Community Tree Recovery, a national program underwritten by FedEx and Foundation members, which replaces trees in communities affected by natural disasters throughout the United States, such as Hurricane Harvey that made landfall in Rockport in 2017. More than five million trees have been distributed through this program since its inception in 2012.

The City of Rockport is located on the Live Oak Peninsula, which is renowned for its iconic live oak trees and other natural resources. Having taken a direct hit from Hurricane Harvey in 2017, tens of thousands of trees were devastated, many of which provided much-needed shade and nesting sites for hundreds of local and migratory bird species. "We are extremely grateful to our partners for their generous efforts," noted Rick Martinez, the City of Rockport's Parks Director. "Planting and establishing trees in our community is a much-needed part of the recovery process,"
